

WORLD RUBBER PROTEST NEARS

Groups in Many Nations to Combat Monopoly

English Organizations Will Join in Campaign

Americans to Lay Plan for Production Today

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE) WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—A world-wide protest against restrictions on crude rubber shipments from British colonies is to be made by organizations in twenty-three countries, including Great Britain. Ernest Smith, general manager of the American Automobile Association, told the House Commerce Committee today when it resumed hearings on the subject.

British manufacturers and automotive organizations, he said, inconsistently have requested relief from increased prices.

American consumers will pay $315,000,000 more for tires in 1926, Smith said, at the present rate of increase. This he based on a probable average increase in the price

STORE WILL SELL REAL ESTATE

Houses and Homes to be Bought at Counter in Chicago

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—The Fair Department Store announced today that it would open a counter for the sale of homes and houses.

"After February 1," said D. F. Kelly, "we will be the first store in America to transfer real estate and sell homes over the counter."

of from 35 to 65 cents for the crude rubber used in a tire. He estimated 27,000,000 more large tires and 25,000,000 more small tires will be sold by 1936 than are used now, at an increased price to the consumer of $11 and $6 per tire, respectively.

Restrictions applying to cotton in the United States "not a retaliation but in violation of British rubber control was advocated by Representative McKeown, Democrat, of Oklahoma.

Defending his plan, Mr. McKeown said his independent of British rubber control "in principle." The cotton industry, he added, "must have governmental aid or die."

AMERICANS PLAN PRODUCTION PROGRAM

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE) NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—A detailed plan for production under American control of the bulk of the crude rubber needed by the United States will be considered tomorrow by the board of directors of the Rubber Association of America.

The subject was broached today at the regular meeting of the board, and after extended discussion was voted upon. The next action will be to propose that the program will be prepared to submit fairly comprehensive data on area, scope and cost of the undertaking.

None of those participating would comment on tonnage, but it is learned that Sumatra and the Philippines, among other sites, are under consideration for plantations.

There was no disposition at the meeting to go in for any hope for alleviation of the present rubber price levels since several years will be required to bring the plantings to maturity, but rather as a future protection against foreign economic control of an essential raw material.

J. C. Weston, president of the Ajax Rubber Company of New York, was elected president of the association. G. M. Stalman, president of the Goodyear, The Rubber Company of Akron, O., and C. H. Seger, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Rubber Company, were elected vice-presidents.

ZERO WEATHER HITS MIDWEST

(Continued from First Page) potatoe, was forced to remain in Omaha because of the sudden drop in temperature.

In Ohio and Northern Kentucky heavy snows reached a depth of six inches. In some places highway traffic is seriously crippled.

In the Chicago district the mercury fell tonight to 18 deg. above zero by midnight and was still dropping. Shortly after, national dispatchers began to report up-to-schedule for trains traveling from Nebraska eastward. Hundreds of automobiles were marooned on snow-covered roads.

The coldest weather reported in the area today was in North Dakota, where the mercury fell to 12 deg. below zero. Farther north, in Manitoba, 13 deg. below was registered.

NEBRASKA FEELS SUDDEN COLD SNAP

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) OMAHA (Neb.) Jan. 11.—An unexpected cold wave swooped down on Omaha this morning and in two hours there was a drop of eight degrees. In twenty-four hours the temperature dropped thirty-six degrees and at 6 o'clock tonight registered 3 deg. above zero with a twenty-eight-mile wind going down from the north.

Government forecast is for thermometer to pass the zero mark during the night and remain in that vicinity all day tomorrow. A hundred-mile potato train, which was scheduled after the cold snap as an advertisement of Nebraska's potatoe, could not start because of the low temperature.

LATEST PORTRAIT OF EX-WAR LORD

The Count of Doorn

This is a new and exclusive portrait of the former Kaiser Wilhelm, from a canvas made by the famous German portrait painter, Alfred Schwarze. It is the first portrait for which the former monarch has sat since the war.

KAISER QUOTES COL. HOUSE

STILL CUTS WORD

The Emperor's interests are many. His mind is more agile than ever. He chops wood and discusses theology, archaeology and world politics with passionate intensity.

At dinner, over which Her Majesty, the Empress Hermine, is ardently devoted to her imperial spouse, the Emperor remains silent, notwithstanding—admittedly, more facts on the subject of Col. House were given by His Majesty.

"I remember only the broad outlines of his visit," stated the master of Doorn. "I hesitate to discuss the details. I have lived and made too much history in the meantime to let them all shall escape to obtain more light on the facts, if they are ever disclosed, will be an additional link in the chain of evidence presented by our government in the World War case."

After dinner their Majesties and the little court adjourned to a cozy room, where the Emperor reads every night, with brief intervals, his own notes on the progress of the day's news, garnered from newspapers in many tongues. William II would make a fine daily journal.

He continues to edit a remarkable eclectic weekly. The Kaiser frequently interrupts his readings from his own notes by personal observations. The text of the selected items seems to him in tone.

The Kaiser attempts to achieve the impartial attitude of the historian. He even refers to himself in the third person on such occasions.

LIGHT ON COL. HOUSE

A few days later His Majesty prepared a digest on the subject of the visit of Col. House. What follows is an almost literal translation of his digest, published with his specific authorization:

"The Kaiser has been given an anti-German treatise in some recent literature dealing with the war days and with those that came after. He wants to know what the Germans did to us."

Gannon Given Reappointment to Prison Board

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 11.—Quinton Richardson today re-appointed Thomas M. Gannon as Sacramento State Legislative Counsel, a member of the State Board of Prison Directors. The appointment is for the full term of ten years.

Gannon was made a member of the board by Gov. Richardson May 1924, having been appointed to succeed B. R. Meek of Oroville who resigned as a result of a controversy between the old board and the Governor.

Gov. Richardson made the following statement in response:

"Mr. Gannon has done work for the prison board and his services are needed. He has a good record."

The members serve without compensation and devote a large amount of time to the work. Gannon has been appointed for a ten-year term as provided by the constitution."

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Officials of the Durant Motor Company today said they had received no telegram from W. C. Durant, head of the company, which indicated that he was not seriously injured in the train accident yesterday in Florida. Mr. Durant said he will be in his office tomorrow.

RAIL LABOR BILL CHANGES ASKED

Measure Held Defective in Public Protection

Asserted Deficiency Pointed Out to President

Definition of Commission's Authority Urged

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Declaring that the public as well as the railroads and their employees should be protected in any new railroad labor legislation, a delegation of the National Manufacturers' Association today told President Coolidge the pending labor bill should be amended.

John E. Edgerton of Nashville, Tenn., president of the association and spokesman for the delegation, described the measure agreed upon by the road executives and their union employees as "helpful and constructive," but said it was defective so far as the shippers are concerned. The bill should be more specific, he declared, in the powers of the commission, which the President would be authorized to appoint as a last resort to bring about settlement of a railroad labor controversy, and the commission would be a part of the machinery which would displace the present Railroad Labor Board.

Mr. Edgerton said it should be clearly provided that during the thirty-day period of the commission's inquiry, neither party to the controversy should engage in a lockout strike.

The seafarers and the police are most indignant over the affair, but they assert that their hostility is directed toward the Ambassador and not Brazil. The government announced that the Ambassador is a private one between the police and the Ambassador and no action has been taken officially.

ROW IN CHURCH OF ENGLAND

Serious Split Looms As Result of Birmingham Revolt Against Modernist Bishop's Rulings

BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

LONDON, Jan. 11.—A serious split in the Church of England is feared as a result of a conflict at Birmingham. The Anglo-Catholic Representative MacGregor of New York that pies made in the capital were very poor, he challenged all to a pie-eating contest, and won, consuming three deep-dish apples.

He is shown here being fed his last piece by Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts.

The bishop, who has had more than 30 years' service in the Church of England, trained as a scientist and mathematician at Cambridge University, has denounced the religious theories which declare the actual body and blood of Christ are found in the sacrament. He has forbidden the reservation of the host with the accompanying service of adoration.

This order has resulted in a breach between the high and low church members, while attracting the attention of the churchmen throughout the country. Anglo-Catholics outside of Birmingham urged clergymen of the Birmingham diocese to defy the bishop, pledging the financial support of the English Church Union. Consequently Birmingham high churchmen in fourteen parochial councils with their wives and families, filed a cession board of finance and declared their churches financially independent.

Most of the reviving parishes are now in the high church, and are seeking funds to make them self-supporting. About $18,000 already has been contributed. Financial independence, however, does not mean freedom from the bishop's rulings.

The bishop has refused to grant license to the assistant clergy in the parishes, where the Holy Sacrament is publicly reserved. He also has refused to ordain two Anglo-Catholic candidates to the holy orders.

MEXICAN ORCHESTRA HAS RUN OF HARD LUCK

ATTENDED TOURS IN SOUTH-WEST LEAD TO FINANCIAL MISFORTUNE

'EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH'

EL PASO (Tex.) Jan. 11.—Juan Torreblanca and his Typica Orchestra have had more than their share of bad luck.

The famous orchestra leader brought his players here last year for a series of concerts as the beginning of a tour of the United States, and obtained a contract with a Los Angeles theater for an engagement, but when the time came for him to leave it was found that there was no enough money in the bank to pay the expenses of the organization to the Coast, so Senor Torreblanca took them back to Mexico City, where he formerly played as President Obregon's official orchestra.

He had a harmonium and piano, and, said Mr. Jardine, after leaving the orchestra, he was unable to get work elsewhere.

The women of El Paso organized a benefit concert for Mr. Torreblanca and a sufficient fund was realized to pay their way back to Mexico City after paying all of their expenses here for the week.

"The Federal reserve system," said Mr. Lowden, "was formed to mobilize the credits of the country and to coordinate and employ it at any time at the point needed. In some such way should we make it possible to mobilize the surpluses of farm products."

The tariff is now said to be unprotective of the farmer because his price is fixed in the world market, in competition with pauper labor.

ENVOYS GATHER ON FARM RELIEF

Delegations Invade Capital Seeking Definite Action

Jardine Invites Leaders to Discuss Export Control

Farm Bloc Representatives to Push Surplus Bill

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—From almost every quarter of the country, but principally from the West and South, farmers and farm organization agents are gathering in Washington today intent upon asking the administration and Congress for definite action on the question of farm relief.

Every train brought dozens of representatives of agricultural co-operative organizations for the national conference of co-operatives which opens tomorrow. At the same time came former Gov. Frank Lowden of Illinois. Samuel S. Thompson of Illinois, new president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and two score editors of farm journals were invited to meet with Secretary of Agriculture Jardine tomorrow the question of such control of the export surplus as will enhance the price of farm products on the home market.

BILL WIDELY SUPPORTED

It is presently transpired that there is virtual unanimity of support among these delegates for the administration bill providing machinery for the promotion of co-operative marketing. An amendment of the House Agricultural Committee to the bill was introduced by Rep. George W. Barnes, of California, to add a provision for the administration to hear arguments on the bill so it may be reported for passage without delay.

Marked division of opinion among the farm organization representatives and the farm editors developed in the House Agricultural Committee, and it became apparent that this measure will encounter hard sledding in Congress. The farm bloc leaders intend to do their utmost to force the adoption of an export surplus bill through but few of them expect success at this session.

The Dickinson Bill providing for controls on farm products so as to allow the price of farm products at home to rise above the world price represents about the middle of the road. The bill which was introduced by McNaury-Haaren and other export corporation plans and those who regard as economically unsound any manipulation of the market for farm products.

FAVORABLE REPORT ASSURED

FOR THE THIRD time since the war the administration possesses a majority of the House agricultural committee and is in a position to obtain a favorable report on any export surplus bill. The present administration, however, expects there could be no assurance of either House passing the bill unless the farm organizations get behind it.

Mr. Lowden conferred with Secretary Jardine after the afternoon together with Mr. Thompson of the Farm Bureau Federation and Aaron Sapir, organizer of farmers' co-operatives. It developed that Mr. Lowden and Mr. Thompson are not far apart on the export surplus problem and that both of them are prepared to go much farther than Secretary Jardine along the line of regulation and price enhancement represented by the Dickinson bill.

"We have had a harmonious and friendly discussion," said Mr. Thompson, "and I am greatly encouraged by the rise of the price of corn in the last few weeks. Confidence in corn has been established and has had its psychological effect."

Mobilize Surpluses

Mr. Lowden told Secretary Jardine that his program in a nutshell is to do for the agricultural industry what the Federal Reserve System has done for the banks.

"The Federal reserve system," said Mr. Lowden, "was formed to mobilize the credits of the country and to coordinate and employ them at any time at the point needed. In some such way should we make it possible to mobilize the surpluses of farm products."

That is the principle of the Dickenson Bill, the theory of which is that with the export surplus so disposed of, the price of the remainder of the crop on the domestic market would rise to the extreme of the tariff on imports.

The tariff is now said to be unprotectionive of the farmer because his price is fixed in the world market, in competition with pauper labor.

Coach Nichols Picks Local Athletes to Oppose Grange at Coliseum Next Saturday

MENTOR NAMES
STARTING MEN

Hawkins and Starke Likely to be Seen in Line

Wilson Has Plenty of Support in the Backfield

Famous Redhead Due to Reach Here Thursday

BY BRAVEN DYER

Unless some one of the athletes is stricken with apoplexy or something equally serious before Saturday, there will be no change in the make-up of the local team which will start against Red Grange in the Coliseum on Saturday afternoon. Coach Sid Nichols drove his charge through a strenuous work-out last night at the end of the drill. The Tiger mentor had made up his mind concerning the all-important opening line-up.

Hayden Phythian and Dewey Lyle are slated for the end berths, with strong possibility that Newt Starke may be in line in place of the latter. Starke is in great shape and this may give him the call over Lyle. Dewey, however, has had considerable experience in playing end and would be a man of much value before the game is over. Inasmuch as Grange concentrates on the ends it is imperative that the Tigers be strong in that position. Milt Wilson, Paul Halbreiter and Roy Baker to considerable trouble to get good wing men and he now has half a dozen available.

The tackle berths fall to Stew Beam and Harry Shipkey, with the numbers being distributed among the many players. It is regarded as the best tackle turned out from California in many moons, while Shipkey is in a similar light, only he got his sheepskin from Stanford.

Signing up Johnny Hawkins, U.S.C. captain last year, gives the locals just about the finest assortment of guards imaginable. Before Hawkins joined the fold it looked as if Paul Minnick and Frank McConnell would hold the two berths. This satisfied all hands both men being former all-Americans. Minnick, Iowa and McConnell at Georgia Tech. Hawkins, in his turn, in place of Minnick and if he does it will be because he is probably in slightly better playing shape.

George Baker, Stanford center a year ago, is being used at fullback and looks good—although hardly up to the caliber of the men surrounding him. The line will average 180 pounds to the man, dream being the heaviest man, Phythian, at 190.

Halbreiter has given George Wilson, Washington's All-American star, plenty of support in the backfield. Hobo Kincaid, the one of the best interference runners ever turned out on the grid, and Roy Baker, another old U.S.C. star, clear the way for Wilson. "Chuck" Winterburn, poly-poly Pittsburgh athlete, is to call signals. He weighs 185 pounds, which gives the backfield an average of 187 pounds to the man.

Reserve material is on hand in abundance, with Bill Blewett, a genuine backfield threat because of his drop-kicking ability and power strength. At some time or other during the game, Hoggs Evans and Blewett, both former California stars, will be in there and they will be a lot of passing going on. The two work together very well in an aerial attack.

Veteran sports followers who have seen the Tigers in operation during the past week are sure that the locals will give Grange all the fun he wants Saturday afternoon. They point to the fact that the last two nonintercollegiate East vs. West games, one played at San Francisco and the other in Columbia, O., were won by the West. They were not professional contests, but there was really little difference in those two games and the one to be played here. The main difference, of course, Grange. Another is that the Bears have been playing together longer than any of the four clubs which participated in the other games, the local club, as it now stands, is stronger than any other professional or semiprofessional team ever formed in the West. Also the heat will likely enter into the deal, although not to the extent that it did in games such as game as the Bears are coming direct from a series of games in the Southern States.

Grange is due here Thursday evening. The ticket sale continues unabated, with more than 40,000 ducats already disposed of.

UP HERE ARE THE LOS ANGELES TIGERS WHO WILL OPPOSE GRANGE AND COHORTS

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT
BILL HENRY

FOR all be it from us to set ourselves up as a golf expert, Heaven knows we can hardly distinguish between a maulie-niblick and a plus-four, but if this young man Harry Cooper isn't a real champion we never saw one. Everything about him bespeaks confidence. He radiates it, carries it in every action. He dashes around the course at a speed that would leave Paavo Nurmi in the rear, steps up and looks his shot over with a quick and experienced eye, takes a crack at the ball with a minimum of wagging, the writhing, sighting and other gymnastics. We cannot describe in minute detail the swing that made one as different in young Mr. Cooper's personalty, but he certainly has that spark of genius that distinguishes the really great athlete from the comparatively large number of those who are just good. It's just as it seems to be with Red Grange—they can't describe to you any difference between what he does and what all the other half-backs do, but just the same they'll tell you that he's a different animal as day from night.

In the final game of the season, the game that was to decide whether or not Illinois was to be the champion of the Big Ten title, Grange defeated Ohio State, 9 to 0. In the final period after Britton, his teammate, had kicked field goal, putting Illinois in the lead, Grange ran the ball on Ohio's 32-yard line and raced to a touchdown.

Speaking of Red Grange, there has come to hand from the ever-busy pen of M. H. Rice, our statistical editor, some facts on the story of Red Grange which he has compiled from a perusal of newspaper records of the past few years. Rice asks himself "Has Grange's record been as great as people would lead us to believe? Is his actual work justification of the general opinion of greatness?" And, according to Mr. Rice, the statistician answers "Yes." From all appearances the Wheaton boy was an unmitigated success. In the moment he started his four years of high school football, for during that period and before Zuppke had ever laid an eye on him, he was the best one-game and that was one when the great Red Grange had been injured and was unable to stick out the contest. But listen to Mr. Rice as he tells the story:

"The Nebraska contest in 1923 was the first intercollegiate game in which Grange played. Illinois won handily. In that game Red made a 35-yard run for another touchdown in the first quarter and thereby laid claim to the battle-cry championship. Tarnapple starred for the winners by amassing a total of 15 points, while Todd was the star performer for the losers with 12 digits to his credit.

Discus Toss Pulls Game Out of Fire

BY AL DEMARKE

(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

ONE of the most exciting and daring shots ever attempted on a basketball floor once turned defeat into victory for Norman Elliot's Illinois Western quintet. Elliot, later the big-time champion, was one of the greatest basketball players who ever bulged the twine of the basketball. A big, burly, lightning on his deadly eye, he was able to travel all over the court and shoot from any distance or angle.

In this game Elliot's team was a point behind, seconds before the final gun. Elliot was close down to the opposition's basket when he took the ball off the bank. It was too far down the floor for a regular two-hand arch shot, and there was no time to dribble or pass the ball to advance nearer the goal.

In a fraction of a second Elliot grasped all this detail and shot a driving curve ball. He drew back the ball in one hand as though to pass, and instead swung his hand around like a discuss thrower and let the ball go. The ball far looped near the ceiling, sped down and swift toward the distant goal, where it descended to rattle through the ring with a blow that jarred the backboard and the hundreds of spectators into a frenzy.

The game was over before the new toss-up at center could be made, and Elliot had achieved the most remarkable play possible in basketball, a play comparable to the no-hit game or homer with bases loaded in baseball, the 80-yard return kick for winning touchdown in football or the "ace" in golf.

Greb and paved the way for the Orange and Blue dash for a

RABBIT PUNCHES

by PAUL LOWRY

AFTER all the bable about the Dempsey-Wills heavyweight scrap it would be quite a feather in the cap of Los Angeles to hold it here. And, unless the plans of local business men who propose to underwrite it are correct, the biggest heavyweight battle of years will be staged in the Coliseum next summer. The Manassas Manier has agreed to hold it here, and he would rather fight in Los Angeles than anywhere else, and that all Jack Doyle has to do to obtain his signature is to submit his a sound business proposal Thursday afternoon.

With the big champion in fighting mood that seems to settle it as far as he concerned, Wills has pitched for a crack at the title for many a year, so his end of the bargain looks easy.

Credit for the idea of underwriting the fight and staging it here for the advertising of Los Angeles goes to a wealthy local realty man. Wills has suggested it to bankers and other influential men in the business walks of Los Angeles he received little encouragement. But the idea took root and the ramifications of a big fight even then this soon became apparent.

The result was that our reality genius received a unanimous endorsement.

After meeting with the local sporting editor yesterday he said he knew fifty men offhand who would agree to underwrite the fight for $25,000 apiece, and he could get fifty more if he could get five more to sign to the document.

These men have refused to lend their names publicly to the venture. They want to know what the reaction of the public will be to the proposed fight. As far as this angle is concerned, Los Angeles has been the rule of late.

The announcement was made at the meeting that the newly organized league would open play Thursday night with a tilt between the Culver City and Richfield sextets.

REDLANDS TO OPEN SEASON ON FRIDAY

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

REDLANDS, Jan. 11.—Coach Malcolm Smith of Redlands High will have his two basketball teams, heavyweights and lightweights, in the best of condition for the opening of the Citrus Belt League season Friday. Redlands is to play at San Bernardino.

On his heavyweight Smith is looking for a solid weight. Smith is also looking for center, Clapp and Hughes, forwards, Farquhar and McKenzie, guards. Reserve is the only man from last year but the team is working fairly well for one so green.

He has a good lightweight outfit with Arthur and Gardner as forwards, Davis at center, Kelly and Wolfe, guards.

Chaffey is now leading the league, having defeated both Pomona and Riverside.

SCHOOL BOYS DYAS'S GUESTS AT BIG GAME

There will be fifty school boys of Los Angeles who will see Red Grange and his Bears in action against George Wilson and the local tiger professional football eleven on Saturday at the Coliseum, the guests of B. H. Dyas Company.

Late last week, the well-known sportswriter and merchant mailed letters to local schools and community organizations asking them to contribute $1,000 open and tournament which was concluded Sunday at the Los Angeles County Club with the dazzling victory of Harry Cooper of Dallas. This was a concrete example of the terrific amount of interest in big sporting events.

Reams and reams of copy went out of Los Angeles on this event. It was played on a hazy, sunny weather—this tourney for the peak purse in national gold-dust. It was great advertising.

Jack Doyle is willing to engineer the Dempsey-Wills fight, not as a private promotion.

The encounter featuring Grange will be fifteen rounds to a decision, but the middleweight title will not be at stake, as any opponent must come in overweight.

Not even the question of who started the $10,000 Los Angeles open tournament can overshadow the wonderful success of the seventy-two-hole event that concluded Sunday night. Emerson Spear, president of Barton Stebbins, publicity director of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and all other executives of the body, have worked for months to insure the success of the venture.

Jack Malley, one of the favorites in the "who started it" campaign, brought with him a checkbook with subscriptions from members and friends of Jack's Southern California Golf Association.

SCARF ANSWERS DRESS REBUKE Named After Woman Enemy of Fads

(P. & A. Photo)
Mrs. Lelia Gordon Barnett Displays Scarf

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The "Henderson scarf," an innovation of Mrs. Lelia Gordon Barnett, wife of Gen. George C. Barnett, former commanding general of the Marine Corps, has been adopted by many Washington debutantes. It came into existence as the result of Mrs. Henderson's recent criticism of society girls who smoke cigarettes and wear knee-length skirts. Mrs. Henderson, a very rich Washington woman, owns many homes in the most expensive buildings in the capital. Mrs. Barnett is shown wearing the scarf which is expected to meet the approval of Mrs. Henderson in that it falls low enough to cover the knees of a girl when she is sitting down.

AUTO ACT TEST CASE ADVANCED

Supreme Court Sets Date in Appeal of Frosts

Transportation Issue Will Come Up April 19

Important Cases Decided by Highest Tribunal

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The appeal of Marion L. and Wesley Frost to test out the California Auto, Stage and Truck Transportation Act was advanced by the United States Supreme Court today for hearing on April 19, next. Operating motor trucks by private contract for the transportation of citrus fruits for the Redlands Orange Growers' Association, the Frosts were notified by the California Railroad Commission that they must cease using the public highway between Redlands and Los Angeles without a permit. The State court held that the law was unconstitutional in that it was operating under a private contract as well as to common carriers operating a bus line for hire, and sustained the law as valid.

MAIL FRAUD CASE REVIEW GRANTED

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Supreme Court today granted a review of the case of Colangelo Fausto, convicted in San Francisco of committing frauds through the mail.

Fausto had contended in his appeal that the threats to kill Frank Lauciello that he and his associates had sent through the mail did not amount to "mail fraud" as there was no pretense about the murder. It had been charged that the letters telling Lauciello that he would be killed unless he left $2000 at an appointed place was a scheme to demand and obtain money by false pretenses.

FUTURE TRADING GRAIN TAX VOIDED

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Section 2 of the Federal Future Trading Act of 1921, dealing with grain trading in grain today was declared void and unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

The section imposes a tax of 20 cents on each bushel involved in transactions known as "speculation," "bids," "offers," "puts and calls," "indemnities" or "ups and downs."

GOVERNMENT WINS RECEIVERSHIP CASE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The right of the Federal government to priority over general creditors in several "consent receivership" cases was upheld today by the Supreme Court.

In one of the cases—the Butterworth-Judson Corporation—the government contended that the "consent receivership" is a new device to squeeze out minority creditors and a scheme devised by financiers and reorganization committees with the aid of corporation lawyers to reorganize bankrupt corporations.

The court agreed to government priority in this case.

REFUSED REVIEW ON RUM SALE TO INDIANS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—J. C. Owen and Evelyn Brown of Phoenix, Ariz., today were refused Supreme Court review of their complaint against a violating an old law prohibiting the sale of intoxicants to Indians.

The highest tribunal declined to interest itself in a plea that the Indians be no longer supervised by the Vosestate Act, and that Indians are no longer wards of the nation.

Reichstag Head Favors Seizing Royal Property

(BY CARL AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
FRANKFORT (Germany), Jan. 11.—Paul Loeb, president of the German Reichstag, believes that the Berlin government is treating the former German princes too indulgently as regards the properties they formerly held in various parts of the Empire.

Addressing a joint meeting of German organizations here yesterday he said there should be a popular referendum to decide whether the properties should be expropriated. In case the Reichstag fails to settle the states fall of passage. Those princes whose private fortunes are insufficient to support them would receive pensions under his scheme.

Says Prejudice for High Brows Hurts Education

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—Prejudice against things intellectual exists among parents and is influencing the younger generation unfavorably, Dr. Frank Aydelotte, president of Swarthmore College, declared in a report presented to the board of managers. This prejudice, he said, explains why many brilliant students lack seriousness in their work.

"The baseness and stupidity of many modern amusements, he said, "are symbols, not the cause of the trouble which lies in certain skepticism concerning the value of intellectual accomplishments and a prejudice against what is abstruse or high brow."

Striking Miners Block New Plan for Settlement

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The anthracite coal conference adjourned today until tomorrow.

The operators proposed another plan to settle the long strike but it was rejected by the miners. It provided for a five-year agreement.

RECLAMATION BILL PASSES

House Approves Measure Without Record Vote

Westerners Successfully Attack Sections

Secretary Work Assailed in General Debate

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The annual Interior Department appropriation bill, carrying approximately $7,380,000 for reclamation work the next fiscal year, was passed by the House today without a record vote.

Western members attacked various sections of the measure, and in several instances succeeded either in amending or eliminating features objectionable to them. It is expected several proposals rejected by the House will be advanced again in the Senate, to which body the bill now goes.

In the general debate, several House members attacked Secretary Work and Director Mead of the Reclamation Service for their administration of reclamation projects. Both officials were assailed for failing to carry out reclamation laws as interpreted by Congress.

TOTAL IS SMALLER

The total amount carried in the reclamation section of the annual appropriation bill, a part of that decrease was in funds allotted to reclamation work, the appropriation subcommittee which drafted the bill proposed to increase the amount by reappropriating approximately $2,000,000 of reclamation funds now available but unexpended.

All appropriations recommended by the committee for irrigation and reclamation projects were approved without change.

A major part of the total funds carried is $193,521,000 for the Forest Service. The bill carries $2,698,000 for the National Park Service. That amount, $480,000 above the current appropriation, is to carry out road construction in national parks authorized by the last Congress.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs would receive $11,928,000, while the Geological Survey would be allotted $1,757,000.

RECLAMATION SECTION OUT

A section was eliminated on motion of Representative Simmons, Republican of Nebraska, to give the Secretary of the Interior wide discretion in extending to settlers on reclamation projects time in which to repay the government for construction and administration costs.

Representative Hayden, Democrat, Arizona, lost an effort to have $400,000 appropriated for road leading into the Grand Canyon National Park. Part of the amount was eliminated to withhold $65,000 for the Orlando (Cal.) project, pending an adjustment of water rights in Stony Creek.

The $1,757,000 carried for the Alaska Railroad, and $15,200 for Mt. McKinley National Park were attacked by Representative Treadway, Republican, Massachusetts, but were passed as reported.

The remaining appropriations were accepted as reported.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 11.—Four white men left here Saturday on a yachting expedition known as the Mason-Spinden exploration tour, organized by Gregory Mason, explorer and writer, and Dr. Herbert J. Spinden, assistant curator of Peabody Museum at Harvard, and Ogden T. McClure, publisher, yachtsman and hydrographer of Chicago. The fourth white man will be Ludlow Griswold, of the American Museum of Natural History. McClure will be navigator and hydrographer for the explorers.

After arriving in Yucatan they will make a northward plunge into the hitherto unexplored interior with the Maya ruins and natural phenomena as the goal of their journey. The four white men expect to be out of touch with civilization for months. One of their main obstacles will be Yucatecos, who have chased out other explorers.

MARYSVILLE, Jan. 11.—Prosecutors' witnesses called today in the trial of Richard Ford, charged with killing Deputy Sheriff Eugene Rector on the Durst ranch in 1913, when four persons were killed, testified that Ford, by his speeches incited a riot of hop-pickers.

J. L. Johnson, president of Wilcox, who was on the Durst ranch in 1913, testified that he heard Ford remark:

"Conditions here are hell; for my part I do not want to live in hell. I will have the other fellow in hell."

The witness added that Ford also remarked in his presence that his fellow officers would have to leave the country.

Another witness, J. K. Smith, told of a meeting on the ranch August 3, 1913, when he heard Ford tell his adherents to stand loyal and not let the officers take them. Smith said he saw Sheriff George Voss and other officers reach the meeting. He described the fight which followed.

URGE FEDERAL DIVORCE LAW

Cook County Judges Suggest Improvements

Present Bill Recognizes Five Actionable Causes

Texas First, Illinois Second in Total of Decrees

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Five Cook county judges, in a State which had the second largest number of divorces, are unanimous in commanding the Federal divorce bill, inasmuch as it attempts to introduce federal divorce laws throughout the nation.

The bill, introduced by Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, allows only five causes for divorce—unfaithfulness, cruelty, desertion for a year, insanity and conviction of a felony.

The Chicago jurists, who have heard approximately 75,000 divorce petitions filed in this district alone in the past five years, suggest modifications and amendments to the Capper bill.

Judge Harry A. Lewis, who astounded feminine divorce seekers with his dire warning that the bill would grant no alimony to women in good health who had no children, went into some detail in proposing improvements on the Senate bill.

"The strongest proof should be required for the charges of cruelty and insanity, which are causes for divorce in the bill," he said. "Fraud should be crept into such causes."

Judge Joseph Sabath expressed approval of an amendment which would require the prospective bride and bridegroom to file a notice before they could obtain a marriage license. This plan has worked out successfully in Europe, he said.

The other judges are John L. Sullivan, Thomas J. Lynch, and John R. Caverly. The latter presided at the Loeb-Leopold murder trial.

Illinois, with 13,658 divorces in 1923, according to a compilation by the Department of Commerce, was exceeded only by Texas, which had a total of 15,875 divorces. Total divorces for the United States for 1923 were 178,000, an increase of 3.5 per cent over 1922.

TRAM CAR FARE INDEX TURNS UP

Trend of Traffic on Yellow Line Traced

Total for 1925 Shade Under That for 1924

Curve Showing Gain Constant Since August

Street-car riding started the year 1925 almost 5 per cent below the average weekly travel for 1924, but ended December 31 more than 5 per cent above the 1924 average, according to a chart prepared by H. A. Perryman of the statistical department of the Los Angeles Railways to show comparative revenue of the yellow cars in 1924 and 1925.

Street-car travel was on a steady up trend from the middle of July until the end of the corresponding period of 1924 (see figure 1). The advance in the latter part of the year was not quite enough to offset the loss in the first part of the year in comparison with 1924. Total travel increased with a total of $45,285,658 passengers served, as against $49,575,207 for 1924. The figures for both years include passengers on cars and buses.

Travel increased during 1924, during the summer months, as caused by the power shortage, which forced curtailment of service and reduced street-car riding, due to many of the electric plants being forced to restrict their output.

The power conditions in 1924 accentuated the usual lightening of travel in summer during the vacation season and the weeks in which schools are out. A sharp increase at the first of September was caused by the opening of schools. The low point of 1925 street-car business was in the week of October 14 to 20, after which the variation in business from the middle of February to the middle of April was due to varying weather. It was noted that a temperature of 70 deg. or more brought out the shopper, while a temperature below that point caused them to stay at home.

Although the total business for last year was slightly higher than in 1924, due to the slight travel in the first half of the year, it is evident that in each year since August 1 car riding has been above the corresponding period of 1924 and is rated as an encouraging indication by street-car operators. The majority of people who ride in and out of the downtown shopping districts ride in street cars, and the percentage of cars in the industrial districts is an indicator of employment conditions.

One of the interesting features of the local transportation business in 1925 was the extension of bus lines to the new suburbs as feeders to the street cars. In January, last year, 423,691 passengers rode on yellow buses and, last month the buses served 762,517.

October was the best month of the year in point of total passengers served by buses and street cars, the figure being 10,209,930. It was a little more than 6000 above the previous month.

Last month street cars and buses carried 1,151,402 more passengers than in December, 1924.

PRAISE IS ACCORDED TO PERRIN
Work of Federal Reserve Under Retiring Chairman Traced by Writer

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—In commenting editorially on the resignation of John Perrin, as chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco and Federal reserve agent, Paul C. Frederick, financial editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, says:

"Whatever is to be said in future years about the Federal reserve system as affecting business commerce, banking and industry on the Pacific Coast since the organization of the twelve Federal reserve banks in 1914, it is clear that the men identified with the system in executive capacities worked and lived through an epochal period not likely to be duplicated in the lifetime of the present generation or the next to come. Such case is pertinent in referring to the resignation of John Perrin, chairman of the board of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, and Federal reserve agent."

There will come a time when some one will tell the story about the Federal reserve bank system with a historic background covering the years 1914-1924. That was in 1925 that as far as can be judged now, there came to business and industry, and to a large extent, to agriculture, a return to sound traditional banking, leading to the re-establishment of the Federal reserve system functioning along easy and reasonable lines, and probably doing the job its best."

As to John Perrin, it is too early now to say just how large was his part in the history of the Federal reserve as affecting the Pacific Coast. As Federal reserve agent, in the period between 1914-21 he disbursed through the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, the huge sum of $1,470,268,500. That is more than four times the cost of the Panama Canal, which was approximately $250,000,000.

"Billions of United States money must not be lightly spoken of. This money was Federal reserve notes, not gold bonds, and it passed through Mr. Perrin's hands. He went into the arteries of commerce and business and industry. At great sacrifice to himself, Mr. Perrin has remained at his post during the last few years."

FINANCE FIRM PROGRESSES

Motion Picture Capital Stock Advances to Big Board; Los Angeles Money Interested

BY EARLIE E. CROWE

Los Angeles capital is substantially interested in another stock that has been promoted to the New York Stock Exchange. The Motion Picture Capital Corporation, which acquired the Cinema Finance Company of Los Angeles several months ago, has advanced from the New York Curve to the big board, and already has aroused interest among the speculative community. It is the first motion-picture finance company to appear on the ticker.

Because a large proportion of its business operations are centered in Los Angeles, motion-picture capital is also followed closely by the traders in Los Angeles. Holders of the original stock in Cinema Finance exchanged into the stock of Motion Picture Capital, and already have benefited materially from the market progress of the latter company.

PICTURES FINANCED

Cinema Finance is now the western operating subsidiary of the parent company, and is closely identified with the financing of an important list of independent producers operating in and around Los Angeles. Under the direction of Maurice Barber, who is vice-president in charge of western business of the Motion Picture Capital Corporation, the company financed production in 1925 to the amount of approximately $3,500,000. Mr.

Barber estimates that the volume of business in 1926 will show an increase of around 25 per cent.

Like any other finance company, the Motion Picture Capital Corporation advances funds to the producers on the basis of proper security. The finance company controls the expenditure of the money, and maintains close supervision over all financial details until the money advanced is repaid. The wholesome improvement in motion-picture credit in the last year through more thorough coverage of costs and the assimilation of the weaker companies has commanded the attention of banking and investment interests.

Several motion-picture stocks are now quoted on the New York stock exchange.

COSTS ANALYZED

Studies made by the operating subsidiary of the Motion Picture Capital indicate to what extent the financial backers have delved into financial affairs of the industry. It is estimated that a picture should return a gross amount at least three times original costs to cover distribution costs, prints, advertising, etc. About 50 per cent of the ultimate gross receipts is collected during the first three months of the picture's life, and 20 per cent in the entire first year.

The second year is expected to bring about 20 per cent.

Among the independent production studios, Motion Picture Capital is financing the production of films produced by Larry Simon, Cecil B. De Mille, Metropolitan Productions and those of Monty Banks and Strongheart, through Howard Da Silva. In the case of the productions, Cecil B. De Mille and Metropolitan Productions alone make thirty-five to forty pictures annually.

DIRECTORS FROM HERE

The men behind Motion Picture Capital are understood to have ambitious plans for the future of their organization. Although most of the large production, distribution and exhibition units are now combined into single companies, the industry has a number of independent studios, each of which offers certain kinds and types of pictures who offer a profitable field for financing operations. Motion Picture Capital also finances production units in the East, where the parent company originally entered.

Among the Los Angeles men represented on the board of the company is John B. Miller, president of the Southern California Motion Picture Company, and Mr. Bert Vice-president in charge of western operations. The eastern directors include John T. Pratt of the Standard Oil Company, J. E. Brunton, managing director of the Kodak, and a number of younger capitalists, including Theodore Schuler, Leonard J. Stevens, Lester J. Cudahy, Dales Blodges and B. D. Miller.

Motion Picture Capital has a total of 200,000 shares of common stock outstanding, and a small issue of preferred, which is subject to a non-voting dividend of $1.50 a share. Since listing on the big board, eastern reports have stated that the company is earning twice the dividends and is in a position to meet its obligations to the common stockholders.

While on the curb, common shares between 15 and 19, and now selling around 21.

BANKERS OFFER

SAN JUAN LIENS

An issue of $2,500,000 of 4 1/4 per cent bonds of San Juan, the capital of Porto Rico, is being offered by the Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Stranahan, Harrl & Otis, Inc., Hayden, Miller & Co., and W. H. Newbold's Son & Co. at par, plus 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 per cent. The bonds are due serially from 1923 to 1968.

"Billions of United States money must not be lightly spoken of. This money was Federal reserve notes, not gold bonds, and it passed through Mr. Perrin's hands. He went into the arteries of commerce and business and industry. At great sacrifice to himself, Mr. Perrin has remained at his post during the last few years."

NOTE TAKEN OF BUILDING BOOM*Duration of Present Trend of Wide Concern*Industrial Conference Body Offers Answer*Says Pace Hangs on Material and Labor Costs*BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Under-
our present period of prosperity are several forces, but the boom in building that began four years ago and which within the last year has gained rather than lost momentum, may be named as an outstanding factor. A great army of men in this country are engaged directly or indirectly in the building industry. So long as building continues active, everything will be fine, but what business prophets want now is an indication of the future trend of building.At least one organization has stepped forward with a suggestion that may prove helpful in our efforts to gauge the future trend of building activities.*Whether the nationwide building boom will continue at present level or will expand, says the national industrial conference board, on the trend of building wages and the cost of building materials.*Back of this reasoning is the belief that the boom of recent years has very nearly filled the shortage that had been created in previous years. So long as emergency needs were the controlling factor, high building wages and high building material prices did not check activities, but with these extraordinary demands pretty well satisfied, the time is at hand when people reckoning when the fluctuations in wages and material costs may very well influence materially the course of the industry.While the board does not in so far as it goes say that the building boom has gone about as far as it will in present circumstances, and until changes occur in wages and materials prices, that view doubtless was in its mind in issuing the following statement:"From 1923 on, prices of building materials have been consistently below the 1919 average level, with a downward tendency. If any, and it is a large if, factor, exists, we must look to it as the chief stimulus during the present stage of building activity. With the national average rent level sagging, indicating longer and more acute periods of unemployment, there is no indication for more than a normal demand for additional industrial and commercial floor space, building costs will be the fundamental determining factor in building activity in the immediate future."*Building Situation*Activity in Los Angeles*comes to the*Hicks and Rieglerman Economic Service*May Letter of January 11*Both Spring Street*Faber 3176*Stability of Earnings—an Index of Value*DURING the seven years of our national expansion and growth since the war the earnings of well managed Public Utility Companies have steadily increased.*Investing companies are playing an increasingly important part in the development programs of public service enterprises.*No issue is so essential to the growth of urban and rural America as the successful operation of Public Utilities.*We have prepared a list of over twenty securities—no obligation of operating and holding companies listed in all sections of the United States, showing a wide choice to the discriminating investor. Ralph G. Wolff Co.'s First Mortgage Real Estate Gold Bonds are secured by properties in the heart of Los Angeles: properties that have sufficient net income to meet interest payments more than three times over; backed by a moral responsibility and financial worth of the mortgagor that adds greatly to the security. Consider also the fact that they are Serial Bonds, the annual installments adding to the security of the later maturities.

We have several of our most recent issues that we are offering at par to yield 7%. Both short and long maturities in denominations of $100, $500 and $1000.

We will gladly send you circulars giving full details and invite your inquiries.

MAJ. DABNEY VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA
Los Angeles Woman's Son Dies While on Duty at Post in China

A widespread investigation of promoters' activities in the Los Angeles oil field is under way by the Corporation Commission, it was announced yesterday at the commission's offices here.

The Corporation Commissioner

ruled recently that his department has jurisdiction over the sale of lease units. None of the Los Cerritos promoters, it was said, has applied for permission to sell these units, and a question upon which the courts have not passed is said to be involved in whether individual interests in leaseholds are securities.

There are twenty to forty promoters now involved in the investigation. It was noted that total investment in lease units in the new field are believed to be upward of $1,000,000. The investigators, it was said, were interviewing purchasers of lease units today. No complaints have been filed with the Corporation Department as yet, and no hearings ordered.

BOOM IMPAIRS FLORIDA CHARM

Niagara Publisher Likens it to Coney Island

*Says Real Estate Agents
Give No Peace*

A. E. Deuel Visiting Here on Way to Honolulu

Boom conditions are seriously impairing Florida's fame as a playground, in the opinion of Alan-ton C. Deuel, president of the Niagara Falls Gazette Publishing Company, who spent last winter on the hectic peninsula, but decided this year to spend his winter vacation in Los Angeles and Honolulu.
He arrived at the Biltmore yesterday and will remain several days before sailing for Hawaii, where he will remain until April.

"Florida is like Coney Island—too much jazz and too crowded," declared Mr. Deuel. "Moreover, people will let you have no peace. It's not a pleasant place for one who wants to get away merely for a brief period of recreation and rest."

He added that in making this statement he was expressing the sentiments of many eastern people who have had experience in Florida.

BUSINESS IMPROVED

Speaking of business conditions in the East, the publisher said the situation is better for some time.
There is less unemployment and no scarcity of money. "Niagar Falls has had a rapid industrial growth since the cataclysm was harnessed and is now known as the electrical center of the United States," he said. "The major portion of the chemicals used by the government during the war was produced at Niagara Falls."

The plants established at the falls now furnish most of the hydroelectric power used in all the cities and towns on both the American and the Canadian sides with in a radius of 200 miles of Niagara, including such cities as Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, Mr.
Deuel said.

Plans are under consideration for increasing power production at the falls, and the ultimate step toward carrying out the program will be taken this year," he commented.

SCENERY UNPAIRABLE

"Of course, the development will not be carried to a point where there will be any impairment of the scenic beauty of Niagara.
The falls are natural features and cannot be perpetually dammed up. But much additional power can be produced without interfering with this aim.
So far as the power plants now in operation are concerned, they have not been damaged in any way. Snowing over the falls, a moderately strong wind blowing against the current above the falls diminishes volume of the cataract far more than do the requirements of the present turboines."

As evidence of the fact that Niagara has suffered no impairment of its attractive qualities, Mr.
Deuel said a most popular place ever as a honeymoon resort:
"Last year, colored electric lights were installed on the Canadian side, which light up the falls at night, presenting a spectacle of extraordinary beauty."

"The New York Central has recently put on an extra train, known as the 'Honeymoon Special' for the benefit of newlyweds and other visitors to the falls."

PLANS FOR RUM WAR LAID

Base for Coast Guards*

The inspection trip of the two Coast Guard officials was made following a meeting with Col. R. E. Frith, Federal prohibition administrator for the Southern District of California and Arizona, during which various phases of "up-and-down" problems were discussed. After visiting at 10 o'clock this morning in Col. Frith's office on the eleventh floor of the Transportation

ACTRESS SUES INCE'S ESTATE

Louise Glaum in Court for $405,000 Award

Contract Basis of Action by Former Film Star

Sum Declared Still Due on Years 1922 and 1923

The estate of Thomas H. Ince, who died under mysterious circumstances November 19, 1924, was made defendant yesterday in a suit for $405,000 brought by Louise Glaum, a former picture actress. Mrs. Ellen Priscilla Ince, widow, and Ingles C. Cooper, attorney, who are executors of Ince's will, were named in the suit, in which it is alleged two motion picture contracts

Miss Glaum says Ince had with her and others a son, a suit was filed by Attorneys Flint & Mackay and Robert E. Ince.

In May, 1918, Miss Glaum declares, she signed with Ince and J. Parker Read, who had been partners at that time. This contract was superseded November 15, 1919, by a contract which provided for her services for a year, with an option of three years more, she said, and the option was exercised in 1920, extending the contract to November 15, 1923.

Under the contract, she asserts, she was to receive $2000 a week the first eighteen months, $2200 a week the next nine months, $2000 a week the next six months and $2000 a week the final six months. After the end of the first year of the renewed contract, in December, 1920, she signed an account book which showed a balance in her favor of $102,000, none of which, she says, has been paid, nor was she paid the $227,000 due for the balance of the year. She also claims she lent Ince and Read $5000 in March, 1921, for the purpose of completing the picture, "Greater Than Love," which they never paid, though they agreed to do so within a month, she said. Because the suit was filed on December 1, 1924, she asks interest to the date of judgment on the various sums due.

TWO HEROES OF SOUTH TO BE HONORED

Daughters of Confederacy Will Pay Respects to Lee and Jackson Saturday

"The people that forgets its heroic dead is already dying at heart, and we believe we shall be truer and better citizens of the United States if we are true to our past."

With this sentiment the United Daughters of the Confederacy and their friends will honor the memory of Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, their annual dinner to be held noon Saturday in the Billmores' banquet room. Lee's birthday anniversary is the 19th inst., that of Jackson, the 21st.

Mrs. Erwin P. Werner is general chairman of the U. D. C. and William Gibbs McAdoo will speak.

Members of twelve chapters in the vicinity are co-operating. Every Confederate veteran in the region is invited, even those not having their last days in wheel chairs.

The Kappa Alpha Alumni Association will join in the celebration. It was founded at the College of William and Mary in 1776 at Williamsburg, Va., and organized in 1865 under Lee's direction at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va. All its chapters are in the Old South, with the exception of one in California, at Berkeley and Stanford.

Stone Mountain Memorial coins will be placed on sale under direction of Mrs. F. B. Harrington. The making of these coins, for the Confederate Memorial Day, was approved by Congress and the President in honor of the memory of the men of the South who rose in arms in 1861.

Citizens of Los Angeles have been honoring their dead since the Christmas season. The birthday of Woodrow Wilson was observed December 28, and the Battle of New Orleans, in which Andrew Jackson was the outstanding hero, the 8th inst.

CONSTABLE CRUSHED IN LEAP TO CAR

Newhall Officer Injured in Attempted Arrest of Auto Driver

Crushed against a telegraph pole when he attempted to leap on the running board of an automobile to arrest the car's driver, Deputy Constable John E. Seltzer of Newhall was taken to the General Hospital yesterday with barely a fight for his life.

Constable Seltzer jumped on the running board of a machine driven by John D. Marsh. As he did so, Marsh is said to have sped up the car, and the officer was thrown and crushed between the rear fender and a telegraph pole. Seltzer was arrested by Deputy Constable Biddleston and lodged in the County Jail on suspicion of driving while intoxicated. The car was driven away.

According to Mr. Mott, the move is merely one transferring the affairs of Mary Pickford's production company, a co-partnership of the actress and her mother, to a corporation. No stock will be sold nor will the change affect the production of the company.

ANNUAL BANQUET TODAY
The Co-operative Apartment-House Hotel and Bungalow Court Association will hold its annual banquet, dance and installation of officers at 8 p.m. today at the State Society Building, 1137 South Hope street.

Superstitious officers yesterday visited the accident to Seltzer, another friend of the law, that has come on the trail of Newhall constables. Constable Brown a short time ago was killed when arresting a prisoner, and soon after Constable Pilcher met death from the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of a fellow-officer.

FIGHT OVER CHILDREN IN COURTROOM

Parents in Alimony Case Yank Two Boys Back and Forth Until Separated

Yanked wildly off the floor by their father one minute, pulled headlong into their mother's arms the next, William and Richard Doran, 9 and 11 years of age, had scrambled lives for a brief spell in Judge Keever's court yesterday. On the combined efforts of William Durham, attorney for the mother, Mrs. Myrtle Doran, and of Clerk Doyle saved the boys from a fate similar to that of individuals graphically described as having been "torn limb from limb."

Several months ago Mrs. Doran obtained a divorce from Reuben P. Doran, the custody of the boy and alimony of $20 a week for the two sons. At that time she was represented by Attorney Flint & Mackay and Robert E. Ince.

On May, 1918, Miss Glaum declares, she signed with Ince and J. Parker Read, who had been partners at that time. This contract was superseded November 15, 1919, by a contract which provided for her services for a year, with an option of three years more, she said, and the option was exercised in 1920, extending the contract to November 15, 1923.

Because the suit was filed on December 1, 1924, she asks interest to the date of judgment on the various sums due.

And, after all, the court calendar was filled, and the trial date set. But Mrs. Doran had William and Richard when she left the courtroom.

MCGROARTY PLAY MAY BE MOVED

Change from San Gabriel to Old Mission Site in San Fernando Considered

A proposition to move the McGroarty Play from San Gabriel to a location adjoining the old mission at San Fernando is being considered by those handling the play, it was learned yesterday.

This proposition, it was said, was submitted by various interests representing generally the San Fernando Valley. The handling of the play this year is in the hands of the San Fernando Chamber of Commerce.

According to M. V. Hartmann, friend of McGroarty and a director in the Mission Play organization, the San Fernando people are very attractive and is being considered from all angles.

Should a favorable decision on this proposition be reached, however, it will not affect the presentation of the play at San Gabriel this year, it was stated. Present plans call for the opening of the play this season early next month.

TWO BRIGHT HITS

LEONARD AND BURKE HIGH SPOTS ON BILL.

By Grace Kingsley

Eddie Leonard continues to enchant with his songs, dancing and musicians, and Eddie's son repeats his big hit of last week. If Eddie's yellow satin minstrel cloak some day falls on son's shoulders, it can't light in a more likely spot.

Johnny Burke and Eddie and, more mildly, Grette Ardine, save the bill from being a dud. Johnny Burke is the boy who, dressed in soldier's togs, delivers the wise cracks about army life. He is a complete wop and wiz. He also directs the orchestra in one number, and plays a very pretty composition of his own on the piano. Johnny has been here before several times and is home folks to us now, welcome, however, when he comes to come before us in the grouch face and army clothes.

If all French models behaved like Grette Ardine, we'd be kinder to her. She is in the gaudy garment shop. She is an acrobatic dancer, who dances neatly and dresses sweetly. Two boys assist in the terpsichorean devotions.

It isn't the limitations of being "gentlemen nevertheless" as they announce themselves, that cramps the act of Bert Yorks and Ed Ward. And the musical material was up to their pleasing personalities and evident talents, they would be all right. They are merely mildly amusing to some of the people some of the time.

They funny makes amuse by nature, helps George Weller over the hard spots in his act, of which there are many. If the circuit doesn't let George off at Christmas to Santa Claus, he can always swap with his funny Santa Clausish pan. His songs have the virtue of being new and the vice of being pretty cutesie in spots. Belle Hawley is blessed with a pleasant voice and nice personality. She's the embodiment of the act, soothing our feelings when George gets rough.

Just to prove he is really Irish, George, Irish tenor, tells some Irish stories. He has a pleasant voice.

Having evidently gone into training for bootleg ware, The Nagyts eat a little fire in the act, which seems to be a good idea to a hot start in the initial spot.

No line that has been, or probably could be, uttered on the stage is as coarse as one of the stunts of Oscar Laddies of 1926. It is a stupid, tiresome fab review. Only the Stroud Twins, two cute cake girls, save the act. They dance cleverly, and do some twin acrobatic stunts and a rave.

But Eddie Leonard's blues makes it able to suffer through all the rest of the bill.

TWO BIG STARS IN WARNER CONTRACTS

Two new contracts were signed yesterday, one by a comedian and the other by a comedienne, in which it was expressly stated that they are to be elevated to star-dom during the coming year. William Lyon and Louise Brooks, prime funsters of the Warner Brothers lot, were re-signed to long-term contracts with the understanding that each would head feature companies. The first of these series, Lyon, will lead both in picture-starred, but later both will have their own separate units.

The decision to star these players came at the result of a long conference in which they worked well together in creating laughs that hundreds of request letters poured in from fans all over the country asking for feature parts in these two. What had been decided upon the Warners went a step farther and gave each a company.

Willard Louis came into prominence with his portrayal of the Duke of Wellington in "Barrymore," in which John Barrymore starred. He was signed by the Warners at its conclusion and has been with them ever since. Louise, however, only recently joined the cast of the Bennett laugh school and since her entry into serious features has risen to transcendental heights.

SIGNS WITH FIRST NATIONAL

The latest screen player to attach his name to a First National long-term contract is Philo McCullough, famed for his skillful interpretation of character and heavy roles. Negotiations for McCullough's next five years were closed yesterday by John M. C. O'Farrell, manager of First National's West Coast units, and the actress has risen to transcendental heights.

Max Marcin's skillfully constructed melodramas has afforded Lyon the best opportunity to date. He and were, not for his screen contracts, this star could undoubtedly enjoy an extended run in Los Angeles. Miss Helen Millard, who plays opposite the actress in First National's exacting role. However, there is no chance that the run can be carried on and those who have not yet seen "Silence" must secure their reservations quickly if they wish to see the play before its closing.

McCollough's affiliation with motion pictures dates back to 1911 when he worked for the Selig Polyscope Studio in Edendale as sign and scene painter. The adolescent heavy became so engrossed with the acting of those around him that he began painting full time. As luck would have it, he led to his first screen engagement as a spear-holder in an early picture. He played in the first series, "Kathleen."

Since then he has played an assortment of heavies and leads, freelancing at all times. He is very happy about his five-year contract and especially about his imminent trip to New York. For McCullough is a native son and has never been to the big city.

While here, McCullough will confer with the producers and will inspect the 1926 schedule of First National, which will be great organization. His headquarters are being established in the offices of McCormick at United Studios.

Rowland will review all studio work with him and, all in all, spend two weeks in his active life as head of the big film organization.

Plans to Have New Lanes for Building

A "Times" Staff Correspondent PASADENA, Jan. 11.—C. B. Marshall, discharged building inspector, charged City Manager R. In a formal statement made today concerning the city's stand on the collapse of the grand stand on New Year's

There is not a single statement concerning me or my work in the editor's letter of last Saturday, which is true," the statement asserts. The letter reads in part: "The letter was presented to the Board of Directors, proceeding Buckeye Inn, on Saturday. It states that he was not in charge of any department in the Mahoney Building, he failed to live up to the standards of the Building Code in his department, and that he was not of any time instructed him by any architect or engineer in his inspection of grand stands."

At about twenty-four hours after the end accident, Mr. Shaver was away from his office and was taking care of any of his official business. He had been in the office of the Building Department at the time of the accident, but did not remain there long enough to witness the direction of City Manager Orton.

Recommendations of a strong committee, who will head the organized municipal building inspection department will be made by City Manager Orton to the Board of Directors at their next meeting. They may approve a recommendation for the selection of Mr. Shaver. A large number of applications for the position have been received by the City.

Attorney Howard is working on proposed ordinance defining the organization of the department to be headed by a strong engineer. Shaver is one of the oldest municipal employees still in service, having served since 1905.

MISS GRAND JURY LOOKS INTO TREATMENT OR AGED

EXCELSIOR DISPATCH

DIEGO, Jan. 11.—Grand Jury investigating the treatment of old people's homes in San Diego county today agreed to be next in order when grand jurors finish probing the school fraternity fracas. The jurors sat through the morning, awaiting the arrival of Dr. T. C. Little, country physician, to present the matter of old people's homes to the grand jury, following an outline by the coroner as to what seemed to be the need of investigation.

The coroner in general is at a loss to find out why old people have continued to take care of themselves for the remainder of their lives, but after a short time, shunt off to the County Hospital care and maintenance on account of mental incompetence of the old people.

Up to last August there was no law to prevent the practice of such tactics if they were inclined, but now acts are included in the law.

Since last August, however, the Legislature and the law, which was passed in 1925, have eliminated such operations.
